Lake Okeechobee levels being watched

Despite three months of below normal rainfall, officials at the South Florida Water Management District say rainfall amounts since the end of August have pushed the total for the year to normal. And National Weather Service meteorologists forecast above normal rainfall amounts through the remainder of September.
Figures for the period ending August 31 showed District-wide year-to-date rainfall at 36.23 inches, normal would have been 36.63 inches. Lake Okeechobee levels, which had been on the decline because of lack of rainfall during the summer, have received above normal rainfall since the end of August. Agricultural basins which rely on water from Lake Okeechobee received an average 125 percent of

Pahokee man is sought in shooting at local bar

Felipe V. Juarez

Two men were wounded last Saturday night in the restroom of a Pahokee bar.
Jaime Cardenas, 26 of Belle Glade was shot three times with a small caliber handgun at Monk's Game Room and Tavern at 855 Old Belle Glade Road, Pahokee.
The second victim, Jesus Olivera, 21, of 271 Carrissa Drive, Pahokee was struck in the upper arm. It appears that Olivera was already in the lavatory at the time of the incident and was shot accidentally. Cardenas and another man were overheard arguing by other bar patrons. The subject of the argument is unknown and none of the people in the bar say they saw the incident.

The suspect has been identified as Felipe Vasquez Juarez, 49, of 271 1/2 Carrissa Drive, Pahokee. Vasquez is charged with attempted second degree murder, two counts of aggravated battery and carrying a concealed firearm.
Olivera had surgery to remove a bullet from his arm and was released from Everglades Regional Medical Center on Tuesday. Currently, Sheriff's officials believe Juarez is attempting to flee the country, since he is a registered alien and a native of Mexico. He should be considered armed and dangerous.
Anyone with information on Juarez should contact Crime-stoppers at 1-800-458-4477 or the Sheriff's office in Belle Glade at 996-1670 or in West Palm Beach at 688-3000.

Special meeting to evaluate city manager ends abruptly

By Brenda Bunting
SUN Editor
Commissioner Steve Weeks stormed out of a meeting Monday night which was called to evaluate the city manager, saying the meeting was a waste of his time.

City Manager Lomax Harrelle

The special meeting, called by Mayor Bill Bailey on Friday, September 17, was requested by Commissioner Crate "Happy" Tucker to evaluate the performance of Lomax Harrelle.
After Weeks listened to Tucker's complaints about the city manager, he then said "If a manager is doing his job, he's going to displease people."
He said he had no problem with Mr. Harrelle's job performance. After questioning Mr. Tucker about his concerns, Mr. Weeks said "It's a waste of my time tonight to be here. You do what you want, I'm going to a booster club meeting."
Approximately 75 citizens showed up at the meeting. Many clapped when Weeks made his announcement and walked out. Mr. Harrelle, who is at a week long manager's meeting in Nashville, Tenn., was not reached by phone until Saturday by Chief of Police Mike Miller about the special meeting.

The meeting, which lasted about 10 minutes, was adjourned by Mayor Bill Bailey for a lack of a quorum after Weeks' departure.
Absent from the meeting were Commissioners Harma Miller and Daniel Bythwood.
Commissioner Tucker said he

Florida farmers take to the airwaves to fight NAFTA

At a press conference Monday in Tallahassee, a coalition of agricultural groups unveiled a 30-second television ad aimed at warning the public of the dangers of the proposed free trade agreement between the United States, Mexico and Canada.
The coalition, which is calling itself DUMP NAFTA (Defeat Unfair Mexican Pact), has a grassroots fundraising drive on television stations statewide. The spot will begin airing this week during evening news shows and prime time news programs.

The agricultural leaders also said they will send copies of the spot to members of the Florida Congressional delegation, other key congressmen, President Clinton and Trade Ambassador Mickey Kantor.

This spot has a simple message: NAFTA threatens our food security. It will make us dependent on a foreign country for a vital part of our food supply for the first time in our nation's history," Florida Agriculture Commissioner Bob Crawford said. "That's bad public policy."

Mike Stuart, executive vice president of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association said the campaign aims to let the public know that NAFTA will have a real impact on their lives and on the lives of Florida farmers and others who depend on agriculture for their livelihood.

The DUMP NAFTA coalition brings together fresh fruit and vegetable, citrus, sugar and peanut growers, as well as others associated with agriculture, including farmworkers, food packers, processors and transporters. However, Stuart said the coalition also will welcome support from labor, environmental and other groups that are concerned about the passage of NAFTA.

Florida produces 60 percent of the nation's supply of fresh fruits and vegetables in the winter. Mexico, which is a nearly identical growing season, is Florida's major competitor.

If the NAFTA agreement is adopted in its current form, modest tariffs on imported Mexican produce would be eliminated. Since Mexican farmers have the advantage of free or subsidized land, child labor, no minimum wage or workers' compensation requirements, and lax enforcement of sanitation and food safety laws, they would enjoy a significant competitive advantage, Crawford said.

With tariffs on many Florida commodities - including oranges, tomatoes and watermelons - removed immediately on phased out, the agricultural leaders predict that Florida will lose a third of its $6 billion industry and 50,000 jobs.

Plus, growers say, produce grown in Mexico may not be as fresh, safe and wholesome as Florida produce. They say Mexican growers may use pesticides that are banned in the United States and rivers flowing through agricultural regions are often contaminated with raw sewage.

Crawford said poor sanitation conditions in Mexico increase the chances of foodborne illness from E. coli, especially since the United States Department of Agriculture currently tests only one percent of food imports from Mexico for pathogens and pesticide residues.

Competition between Florida and Mexico also helps to keep food prices low. If Florida is pushed out of the market and Mexico has a monopoly, prices may rise, Crawford said.

Winners announced in Lakefront Legacy events

A small but enthusiastic crowd enjoyed and participated in the Lakefront Legacy Arts Festival held last Saturday at the Glades Campus of Palm Beach Community College in Belle Glade.

Featuring arts and crafts, local entertainment groups, storytelling by local residents, art exhibits, creative writing and photography contests, the festival celebrates the historical and cultural heritage of the Lake Okeechobee area.

A "Writer's Invitational" featuring noted authors Edward Falco, Associate Professor of English at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University; David Kirby, Professor of English at Florida State University; and Barbara Hamby, editor of the Apalachee Quarterly, each presented a one-hour program. This was followed by an author's panel and audience discussion. Winners of the poetry and short fiction contests read their winning works as well.

An exhibit of works by local artists plus entries in the photography and creative writing contests provided viewers with a variety of pictures of the area to enjoy.

Plenty of activities were scheduled for the youngsters to keep them involved and entertained - hands on art, games and races, face painting, etc.

Magazine readers, now's the time to renew those subscriptions to your favorite periodical. Glades Day School's Class of '95 is sponsoring the school's annual magazine drive this week. Tapes and compact discs are also available for music lovers. Part of the proceeds from the sales will go into the Junior Class fund to help pay for prom expenses. The drive ends this Friday, Sept. 24.

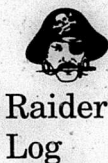

The National Honor and Junior Honor Societies are organizing a team of walkers for the American Heart Association's WALK-A-THON to be held Saturday, October 2 at the belle Glade Marina. Participants do not have to be an Honor Society member, they just need to get sponsors and walk. Help GDS win the most spirited team award! Anyone interested please contact Mrs. Sharon Baumgartner at the high school, 996-6769.

Congratulations to the Gators on some big wins in sports last week! The varsity volleyball team swept Benjamin in a straight set victory last Thursday, 15-13, 15-11. The JV football players beat Benjamin that same night, 26-12, to go 2-1 on the season. The next night the varsity football squad traveled to Lake Placid and held off the last minute drive by the Dragons for their third consecutive victory, 19-14. The boys will face the district rival Benjamin this Friday at 4 p.m. in North Palm Beach. A pep rally is scheduled for 11:45 Friday to show our support for the guys. School will be excused at 1:45 so fans may have time to get to the game.

The student body will be happy to learn this Friday has been designated SHORTS DAY. This is continuing the tradition started several years ago when the administration granted a request to have one day a month when students are allowed to wear shorts. Everyone is reminded that shorts must be of medium or long length and tight gym (weight lifting) shorts are not allowed.

The volleyball teams wish to apologize to those of you who may have shown up for the rummage sale last Saturday. Due to unforeseen circumstances, it was postponed to a later date. We'll keep you informed.

Raider Log

By Beth Buchanan

Students and returning staff welcomed five new teachers to the Raider family this fall: Melanie Bolden and Oral Waugh in the ESE department, Kimberly Adams and Dionne Burgess in the social studies department, and Charlie Howard in the ESOL department. Everyone wishes the best for them to have a pleasant and productive year. Meanwhile, there's a rumor that GCHS might receive another science unit to relieve the over crowding in the science department. Science teachers, if not students, surely hope such will become definite.

Congratulations to senior Fred Taylor who has received the first Principal's A Team jacket of the school year. Fred is famous not only for his athletic skills but also for his studious academic work and good conduct. Everyone wishes him well.

Congratulations also to the following members of the Raider family who recently were runners up in various writing contests in the Lakefront Legacy Arts Festival: Sharika Brown in poetry; and Alexa Lutz, Sonja Lutz, and Rosemary Buchanan in short fiction.

Students of the week for September 17th were seniors Shelby Robinson and Leandra Brown, juniors Eric Watson and Lasha Carswell, sophomores Jorge Duenas and "Shaunte Napier, and freshman Peter Thomas and Rosio Cano. Be Proud!

While we hear a lot about football, other athletic teams deserve credit too! For example, GCHS's cross country runners are very much alive and well. At the Spanish River Invitational last Saturday, with over 40 teams participating, the male Raiders placed fourth in class 3A. The Lady Raiders placed sixth in the same event and class. Coached by Jay Seider, members of the Lady Raider Cross Country team are returning letter winners Tekelia Padgett, Tiphany McKenzie, and Christie Parke. First year runners are Tenesha Forbes, Yvonne Joachim, Daphanie Parke, Tonka Thornton, Sherly Joseph, Velony Gillespie, and Lolitta Bembery. Wilene Henderson and Thercia Thicklin will add depth after the first grading period to make the team a force in the district this year.

Glades Central Takes The Challenge

This will be an evening of one act plays to be presented October 20, at 7:30 p.m. The evening will consist of plays presented by the freshman class, the sophomore class, the junior class, and the senior class. The object of such a night of entertainment? Why of course, to see which class is the best! The freshman play will be: "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown" by Brian Edgcomb as Charlie Brown, Daryl Hingray as Snoopy, Shaka Benjamin as Patty, Tamica McCure as Lucy, Willie Fudge as Linus; Terrance Funderburk as Schroeder; and Anthony Neal as Director.

this chocolate isn't fat-free.

They've been practicing and auditioning for two days now. Who will be the next Cornerstone? Results next week!

This Saturday will find the Crusader Choir riding miles down Tabit Road for their annual bike-a-thon. Thanks to everyone who has sponsored the choir members again this year!

Tonight, our J.V. football team hosts Zion Lutheran at 7 p.m. at Pioneer Park. Our volleyball teams are playing St. Edwards in Vero Beach at 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. Tomorrow night the varsity football team travels to Moore Haven with kick-off time at 7:30 p.m. We are hoping some of our injured players will be able to return.

"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven; a time to be born and a time to die... a time for war and a time for peace." Ecclesiastes chapter three was heard around the world last week and also provided some interesting conversations in Bible classes as the world watched the signing of the "Declaration of Principles" between Israel and the PLO.

Isn't it amazing the whole world is focused on such a small area of land referred to as holy land? We are living in troubled but exciting times!

We want to thank Bro. Craig Hartzog for his time and message in our chapel last week. We were encouraged by the students' response.

Congratulations to the 1993-1994 Top Priority officers. This year's Executive Board is as follows: President - Lori de la Corda; Vice-President - Meira Marin; Chaplain - has had problems communicating with the city manager and he has lost complete confidence in Harrelle's ability to do his job.

"Morale within the city departments has fallen to rock bottom. There is no communication," he said.

"He can expect that during the next two years that I'm here, I'm going to be like a dog on a quail," Tucker said.

Harrelle has been Belle Glade's city manager since 1990. Before that, he was a city commissioner in South Bay and city manager for several years before becoming a commissioner.

Mayer Bailey said he had heard some of the same complaints about Mr. Harrelle's performance that Mr. Tucker had heard but didn't feel it warranted enough to take drastic action.

Commissioner Marina Miller said Tuesday morning she had a Health Care District meeting Monday night, but would not have attended the meeting even if she hadn't had another commitment.

"I felt that if we were going to reprimand or fire the city manager, he should be here. To do it in his absence is wrong. I think it is not a balanced way to handle things and I want to step right."

She said she had no problems with the city manager's performance and has always been able to talk with him.

"I speak with him almost every day, and when I have a problem with something we talk it over," she said.

Commissioner Daniel Bythwood could not be reached for comment.

When asked after the meeting, several members of the audience said they were there to support Mr. Harrelle.

"I didn't know there was a problem," said Paul Prescott. "I came to see what was going on. I've known Lomax Harrelle for years and I'm here to support him. I think he does a good job."

NAFTA

Florida limes were selling for $8 a box. After the hurricane, when Florida was out of the market, Mexican limes jumped to $25 a box," Crawford said.

"Under our current system, Americans spent only 10 cents of every after-tax dollar on food. Why mess up a system that is working so well?"

The ad culminates a two-year effort on the part of Florida's agriculture industry to change the NAFTA agreement.

"We hate to have to oppose the Administration on one of their priorities, but this is a matter of survival," said Andy Rackley, vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League. "We have been making our concerns known for the past two years. Now, we're down to the wire, and we have no choice but to oppose NAFTA as vigorously as we can."

The agricultural leaders, who say they have the strong support of most members of Florida's congressional delegation, expressed disappointment that the NAFTA side agreements did not address their concerns.

"The Florida citrus industry, which is hundreds of years old, produces Florida's number one cash crop.

The current NAFTA agreement and side agreements lack the safeguards that we need to preserve this vital industry," said Bobby McKown, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual.

The ad, which began airing Monday, makes an emotional appeal to preserve America's ability to grow its own food by defeating NAFTA.

The spot contrasts hunger in other countries with U.S. farm production, saying:

"In some parts of the world, people go hungry. They depend on others. They take what they can get, when they can get it. But in this country we've never had to stand in line for our meals. We grow our food safe, fresh and wholesome. But if Congress passes the North American Free Trade Agreement, our fresh fruits and vegetables will likely come from Mexico...and 50,000 Florida farmers will be looking for work. Don't you think some things are just too good to trade? No to NAFTA."

Drugs

I am a concerned citizen of Pahokee. I was going home through the streets of Pahokee. At the corner of the whiskey store, two car loads of police had it blocked off arresting people with a can of beer open on the street.

On the next corner, they (people) were selling rocks, and that seemed to be all right.

I think that was the corner they should have been arresting people on because drugs are doing more harm in this town than a can of beer. Some of these men had just gotten off work and these other I think never work.

I think someone should look into this. I am a concerned citizen.

No gun course

If someone wants to take that gun course out at the junior college this year they can't because they're not going to have it.

They say that the state or the prison farm doesn't want any civilians on their firing range.

Who owns that? I thought the taxpayers owned something in the state, but I guess that doesn't amount to anything. Could you find out who to contact to see about that?

Editor's note: I contacted John Shaw, Superintendent at Glades Correctional Institution. He said Palm Beach Community College did offer the courses at the G.C.I. shooting range, but the classes were stopped because of insurance liability.

I was told though, by Belle Glade's Police Chief Michael Miller that the city is planning to offer a class in the future that will include some time at their shooting range, if there is enough citizen interest. If you, or anyone else would like to take the course, call his office at 996-7251.

Thumbs up

In regards to last night's special meeting evaluating the City of Belle Glade's City Manager's job performance:

Thumbs up for Happy Tucker who spoke his conscience and who loves this city.

Thumbs down for Steve Weeks for walking out of the meeting stating that it was a waste of his time.

Thumbs down for the two absentee commissioners who apparently also considered the meeting a waste of their time.

What's the deal?

Am I alone in not understanding what the hidden agenda was behind Monday night's special called Belle Glade Commission meeting?

I personally feel there's some bad blood there. Until the meeting was called I never knew city staff and some commissioners were unhappy with Mr. Harrelle's performance. Judging from the support of Monday night's crowd, I'd say he has a lot of people who feel he's doing a good job, so, what's the deal? A lot of us would like to know.

Care hunger quiz

- Do you know that 19 percent of all adult Americans are currently on a diet? In our weight-conscious society, we hear little about the common problem of world hunger.
- Although the earth has the resources to provide everyone with adequate food, thousands of children needlessly die each day from malnutrition and related diseases.
- How do the eating habits of Americans compare with the rest of the world? The following quiz is designed to test your hunger IQ:
1. How many calories does the average American receive each day?
 2. How many calories does the average person in the southern African nation of Mozambique consume each day?
 3. How many calories are necessary to provide good nutrition for the average adult?
 4. What do a homeless American and an average person living in Sudan have in common?
 5. What causes one quarter of a million of the world's children to go blind every year?
 6. How much does it cost to provide a child with vitamin A supplements for six months?
 7. Out of 22 million Peruvians, how many do not make enough money to adequately feed a typical family of five?
 8. How many Americans are currently overweight?
 9. How many people in the world go to bed hungry every night?
- CARE, the world's largest private relief and development organization, helps fight poverty through long-term, self-sustaining development programs in agriculture, health and small business development.
- Through CARE's World Hunger Crusade, an annual hunger awareness and fund-raising campaign, the American public can help to improve the lives of millions of needy children and their parents. For more information about CARE's World Hunger Crusade, please call 1-800-521-CARE.

Lewis announces opposition to NAFTA

Congressman Tom Lewis met the signing of his disapproval of the agreement and commitment to work for its defeat.

ment, but I will work to defeat it," said Lewis. "This is exactly what I plan to do. The Administration continually paid lip service to the very real concerns of Florida agriculture, failing to recognize the gravity of the situation. This has left me with no other choice but to actively oppose the agreement."

As the senior member of the Florida Congressional Delegation serving on the House Agriculture Committee, Lewis has pledged to lead the efforts to oppose NAFTA based on its negative impact on Florida agriculture.

Lewis' plans include maintaining a strong coalition of "no" votes among the 23 member Florida Delegation.

Citing the $16 billion economic impact of Florida agriculture on the state's economy, Lewis viewed the negotiations of the supplemental agreements as a window of opportunity to address the concerns of Florida agriculture.

He took the initiative by hosting several meetings with the United States Trade Representative, the Florida Congressional Delegation and members of the agriculture in attempting to remedy these problems.

However, having reviewed the supplemental agreements to the NAFTA, Lewis concluded that they do not address the concerns of Florida agriculture, and that window is now closed.

"These side agreements are nothing for Floridians to be pleased about," said Lewis. "The NAFTA will cost jobs, especially in the agricultural industry which is the backbone of Florida's economy."

Projections for job losses in the agricultural sector along-in-Florida range from 16,000 to 60,000 jobs along with lesser-farmgate value of agricultural commodities produced in Florida estimated at $300 million.

"The time has come and gone to address Florida's needs. NAFTA must now be defeated," concluded Lewis.

Letters to the editor

City Manager

Harrelle gives 100%

Dear Editor:

The Palm Beach paper Sunday had an article concerning Belle Glade City Manager Lomax Harrelle's ability to perform his duties for our city.

Anyone who knows Lomax cannot honestly say he does nothing but give 100% to his city; an office does not make the job.

In two-and-a-half hours he creates more quality turnover than most around him. Our city is at a critical crossroad and we need his knowledge and experience.

Sincerely,
Shirley Evans

Register for Girl Scouts

Dear Editor:

With September upon us, I wish to remind parents in our surrounding communities (Boca Raton north to Indian River) that now is an ideal time to register their daughters in Girl Scouting.

The Girl Scout program provides education and fun for all girls ages five to 17. Community service, outdoor activities, environmental science, and career exploration are just some of the areas girls will explore this coming year, while making friends and working toward common goals.

But Girl Scouting is not just for girls. Adult volunteers (both women and men) bring the Girl Scout program to life!

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. (GUSA) continually updates programs, offers adult leadership courses, and brings volunteers together for dynamic training events. Whether adults wish to lead a troop, assist with projects, or provide a one-time workshop, Girl Scouting has a place for them.

Serving as a volunteer is an ideal way for parents to spend quality time with their daughters while making new friends.

Palm Glades Girl Scout Council invites all girls and adults to become a Girl Scout today.

For additional information, please call (407) 582-5362, or if out of that calling area, (800) 432-1453.

Sincerely,

Reinventing government must apply when it counts

By U.S. Senator Connie Mack (R-FL)

Over to the right of the "reinventing government" story, a headline revealed a new government program announced the same day by the Clinton Administration. Reinventing government? That's the kind of reinventing government Americans want.

The focus of reinventing government has missed the point. The real issue isn't how to make government programs more efficient, it's how to make government programs unnecessary. Americans do not need "more efficient" government programs, nor do they need scaled-back versions of programs which have no business being there in the first place, they want less government.

While there certainly are items in the Vice-President's report that deserve bi-partisan applause, if we truly wanted to reinvent government, we wouldn't act so timidly. Reinventing government isn't adopting a two-year budget cycle; it's slashing the budget.

Reinventing government isn't allowing people to pay taxes with a credit card; it's eliminating programs and reducing spending so that people aren't burdened by high taxes.

Our government does not need to be reinvented, it needs to be slashed. I have proposed a bi-partisan Spending Cuts Commission, designed along the lines of the Base Closure Commission, to cut government spending. If Congress fails to do its job, the Commission would put together a package to cuts - I recommend at least $65 billion a year - that Congress would be forced to vote on without amendment.

"Reinventing government" wasn't on the minds of Congress and the Clinton Administration last month when Congress passed a budget loaded with more taxes and more spending. Reinventing government must mean less government and less spending. Only then will Americans have faith that government will not stand in the way of pursuing the American dream.

If you have any questions on the Spending Cuts Commission, or any other topic, please contact me at: 517 Hart Senate Office Building, Washington D.C. 20510. Thank You.

Rosenwald Elementary

The Rosenwald Good Ship Learn-A-Lot has dropped anchor on the isle of grandparents for a great celebration.

Coordinator Annie Ruth Russell, Rosenwald's Media Specialist and her teammates did a splendid job for orchestrating the activities. A program was presented by various grade groups performing a variety of specially designed for the entertainment of the grandparents. There were also honored with a fashion show displaying the many ways we can look together and uniformed aboard the vessel.

Lunch tickets were sold at the program so that grandparents would not miss out on the tasty luncheon prepared in their honor. Approximately 187 grandparents attended the bounteous festivities planned.

Following the program door prizes were given by ship's captain Earlyne R. Harrell. The youngest grandparent was Jo Ann Odum. Oldest grandparent: Sarah Martin, 2nd oldest, Simona Maldonado. Special recognition for oldest went to Willie Mae Marshall. Waymon Collins received special recognition for being among the oldest grandparents attending the festivities. Grandparent with the highest number of grandchildren: Juanita Sears, grandparent with the 2nd highest number of grandchildren: Refugio Garcia. Cecil Bentley received recognition for having attended every Grandparent's Day Celebration.

The ship also briefly docked on the Spanish isles for a glimpse at Hispanic Week. We enjoyed the melodic strains of Gloria Estefan piped over the intercommunication system. Also tasty Cuban bread and butter was enjoyed.

Until next week. Bon Voyage!

Medical school sends students to Florida's farm communities

Why does Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine (SECOM) send all of its students to isolated rural communities such as Okeechobee, Immokalee, Belle Glade, Apopka, and Indiantown?

Because SECOM has a mission to train its students in rural medicine and to improve health conditions in medically underserved rural communities.

SECOM is one of the few medical schools in the nation that requires all of its students to take clinical courses in rural medicine and gain an insight into the special health care needs of residents of rural areas. Third and fourth-year medical students, as well as Family Medicine residents, train in rural settings for a period of one to three months.

This includes working at clinics with hands-on patient interaction and living in rural communities. During these sessions, students work under the direct supervision of licensed physicians, including a faculty member who coordinates training.

The rural training program provides an enriching educational experience that cannot be taught in the classroom or by textbooks.

Health centers participating in this program include Collier Health Centers in Immokalee, Florida Community Health Centers in Clewiston, Okeechobee, Indiantown and Fort Pierce, the Palm Beach County Health Department public health unit at Belle Glade, and the West Orange County Farm Workers Health Association clinic in Apopka. Most of these clinics treat migrant farm workers and indigent patients.

In a recent Congressionally-mandated study, the National Rural Health Association ranked SECOM's rural training program among the 10 best in the nation - one of only two medical schools so rated.

SECOM officials understand that exposure to rural practice will prepare and motivate future physicians to practice in medically needy areas - part of an overall goal to help ease the chronic medical manpower shortage experienced in these communities.

Pfc. Winfred Johnson

Marine Pfc. Winfred Johnson, son of Mary H. and Winfred Johnson Sr. of 608 SW 12th St., Belle Glade, FL, recently completed the Basic Aviation Course.

During the course, at Naval Air Technical Training Center, Millington, Tenn., students receive instruction in basic mathematics, physics, electricity, electronics, small arms, electrically-fired aircraft guns, building and up loading bombs and missiles and troubleshooting aircraft weapons systems.

The 1992 graduate of Glades Central Community High School joined the Marine Corps in September, 1992.

William L. Towell

During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies include seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

The 1991 graduate of Glades Day School joined the Navy in March, 1993.

Dinosaurs and Christians

Does the Bible address dinosaurs? What does the fossil record really tell us about these fascinating creatures? Is there evidence we're not hearing about?

Join Grady McMurry, at 300 Shepherd Church of God, 800 Bacom Point Road, Pahokee, on Friday, September 24, at 7 p.m. and Saturday, September 25, at 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to learn the answers to these questions and others.

Topics to be addressed include evolution - its nine proofs and are they valid? Fossils - do they prove evolution or creation? Even evolving into man - is there really any evidence? Common ancestry or abrupt appearance - what does science really say?

Mr. McMurry was an evolutionist for 20 years before becoming a scientific creationist. A published speaker, Mr. McMurry is a member of the Research Society. His seminars are interactive and he welcomes your questions.

Pastor James H. Brewer extends a cordial invitation to anyone interested in expanding his knowledge of the Bible. "When God's Word is being closed out of the public school, as our history books are being rewritten omitting references to God, as our students are being taught evolution as fact instead of theory, someone must teach our students and their parents the truth about the beginning of all that is. Since few of us have the scientific proficiency and technical accuracy to instruct our people with current data applying Scriptural truth, this seminar with Grady McMurry will provide us with Biblical evidence for our beliefs."

All sessions of the seminar are free and open to the public. A nursery will be provided for children under age five. For more information, call the church office at 924-7284.

County library systems and McDonald's issue library card challenge

More than 85,000 students in Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Okeechobee and Indian River counties will be "challenged" to obtain their library card when the county library systems kick off the McDonald's Library Card Challenge this month. The four-week campaign will urge students to get acquainted with the nearest branch of the county library system to discover the wonderful world of reading. In Palm Beach County, over 1,000 students in grades K through 12 will be targeted. The local program coincides with the American Library Association's National Library Card Sign-up Month. As a result, thousands of children and adults are expected to receive library cards during September.

Students who meet the challenge will be rewarded with coupons for a free small order of McDonald's french fries. They will also qualify to enter a drawing to win $50 gift certificates to Target stores, bicycles, Sony Walkmans and one-inch pocket size color televisions or the grand prizes: five one-day Sunday brunch cruises for a family of four aboard the Viking Princess.

During the first week of September, schools will distribute a flyer challenging students to sign up for a library card. When students visit the nearest county library branch and sign up for a library card or show a valid card, they will receive the coupon and entry form which will be collected by the libraries and entered into the grand prize drawing to be held October 8. All entries must be submitted no later than September 30.

"We want to encourage not only young people but also their families to take advantage of the many services that are available at our nearest library," said Cathy Benson Brown, Community Relations Coordinator for the Palm Beach County Library System. "We're confident that the McDonald's Library Card Challenge will help us greatly in this effort."

All 48 McDonald's restaurants in Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Okeechobee and Indian River counties are participating in the challenge.

Blue Devil's remain unbeaten...ranked 2nd in Class 2A - State Poll

By David Ranieri
Staff Reporter

The Pahokee High School football team is off to their best start in four years.

The Blue Devils defeated John I. Leonard last Friday night before a crowd of 1,200 fans to raise their record to 3-0 overall and 1-0 in District 7-2A.

The last time the Blue Devils were 3-0 was in 1989. The team went on to win the school's only state championship in football.

But Pahokee's victory over the 2-1 Lancers last Friday night did not come easily.

After a sluggish start by both teams, Pahokee got on the scoreboard first as junior tailback Andre Taylor scored on a 4-yard run with 5:08 remaining in the first half. Taylor had 68 yards on 10 carries and one touchdown and added five receptions for 52 yards.

Then quarterback Tyrone Richardson's run for the 2 points was good as Pahokee led 8-0.

John I. Leonard stormed back as Keith Moore returned the ensuing kickoff 82 yards for a touchdown. Jim Revulus' extra point was good as the score was 8-7 at the half.

The Blue Devils would get a much needed break in the third quarter. Moore could not control Hershall Walker's hand off and middle linebacker Edwin Harder scooped up the ball and ran 43 yards for the score. Then Richardson ran in the two point conversion.

Pahokee would add another touchdown with 7:54 remaining in the fourth quarter as Richardson connected on a 26-yard touchdown pass to Tyrone Smith. Richardson completed 12-of-16 passes for 149 yards and one touchdown and Smith added four receptions for 86 yards and one touchdown.

But the game was far from over.

Walker scored on a 41-yard run and Mike Tipp converted the two point conversion to pull John I. Leonard to 22-15.

The Blue Devil's offense would take over on their own 39 yard line after junior Darrell Smith recovered the on side kick.

Pahokee's offense was hoping to run the clock out, but Taylor fumbled the ball the 47 and the Lancers recovered.

But the Lancer's hopes of pulling off a last minute victory were dashed suddenly. With 52 seconds left, Richardson picked off Walker's pass at the Pahokee 35 yard line to preserve the Blue Devil's 22-15 victory.

The Blue Devils were led defensively by Orson Walkes who had seven tackles and one sack.

Defensive end Paul Bowles also was a major factor in Pahokee's victory. The 6-foot-2, 210 pound defensive end had eight tackles and one sack. Pahokee's defense held the Lancers to eight yards passing, 23 first downs, and sacked quarterback Hershall Walker two times.

Seven weeks ago Bowles chipped a bone in his right ankle while playing basketball and the injury was expected to keep him out for the team's first five games. Since that time Bowles has returned to action and has been a major contributor to Pahokee's strong start.

"It was great having beat John I. Leonard, but we need to stay working hard. Next week we play Labelle, which could be the toughest out of our first four games," said head coach Mark Kaczanowicz.

Pahokee football players... celebrate their victory over John I. Leonard. Staffphoto by David Ranieri games are district games like Labelle and Cardinal Newman. Success breeds success."

The Blue Devils are now ranked No. 2 in the Class 2A state poll. They will host Labelle High School Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Lewis' family revealed to have a long line of heart disease, helps to explain controversial death

By David Ranieri
Staff Reporter

The clouds that once obscured Reggie Lewis' death have finally parted.

The Boston Globe has recently released information that is crucial in unraveling the Boston Celtic's star controversial and tragic death.

The Globe reported that Lewis suffered from a heart murmur and his family had a history of heart illness.

Lewis suffered from five or six dizzy spells in the four months before an earlier collapse on April 29, when the Celtics were playing the Charlotte Hornets in Game 1 of the first-round of the NBA Playoffs. Lewis had a run of irregular heartbeats when he was resting in the hospital following his first collapse.

The newspaper also reported that Lewis told his doctor, Gilbert Mudge, that one of his two brothers was born with a hole in his heart and had undergone open heart surgery in a Baltimore hospital at the age of four.

Lewis also concealed that his mother, Inez Reid had had two heart attacks, one when she was 17.

Previously, Lewis death was surrounded with mystery because of conflicting medical opinion.

He was originally diagnosed with cardiomyopathy, a life threatening illness that can lead to heart irregularities. This was same disease that Hank Gathers was diagnosed with.

But Lewis, like all patients, was entitled to a second medical opinion. This time Lewis was told that he could resume his career with the proper medication and for the first time since his collapse on April 29 it looked like Lewis could possibly return to basketball, and this story might have a happy ending. Unfortunately that never happened.

Lewis first gained recognition playing for Dunbar High School in Baltimore. He teamed with Tyrone Bogues and Reggie Williams on a team that many called the greatest high school team ever to play the game.

Later, Lewis was drafted in 1987 by the Boston Celtic in the first round, the 22 overall pick. He was Northeastern's all-time leading scorer and a college star.

Still may experts never predicted the success Lewis would have in the pros.

He rose from a struggling rookie to the Celtic's captain and a bright spot on an aging Boston dynasty. Larry Bird's back forbid him from playing the game that he once dominated and Kevin McHale and Robert Parrish were nearing the end of their careers.

Still, who was responsible for Lewis' death? Witnesses said he had not broken a sweat, while shooting baskets before he died.

Now that the Celtic's star is gone many people will try to place blame on someone for a death that could have been prevented.

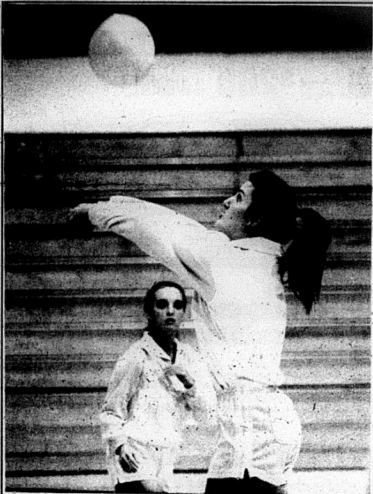

Was it the doctors, the Boston organization or Lewis himself?

You can probably find everyone involved in this case partly to blame in some way.

As Americans, we always love to reward our heroes for their great feats. Athletes are always rewarded for their athletic prowess through huge contracts, the roar of the crowd and constant attention.

We love to placed athletes on pedestals because we want to be like them, but we also give the false sense that they are indestructible. But no one is superhuman and cannot avoid death.

Lewis leaves behind his wife who is expecting their second child and his son, Reggie, Jr.

Christian Day's Bubba Wilson rushes for 52 yards against St. Petersburg

Kruck completed 8-of-18 passes for 187 yards and was intercepted three times. His touchdown passes were 31 yards to Andrew Kraus, 10 yards to Matt Backe and 53 yards to Jeff Brandes.

Ryan Mould ran for 26 yards for the other touchdown and William Bates returned an interception for another score. John Backe added a 5-yard field goal.

Christian Day's lone bright spot was Bubba Wilson with 52 yards on 15 carries.

The Crusaders will play at Moore Haven High School, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Glades Central's Fred Taylor held to 52 yards

Glades Central defeated Lake Worth 27-0 at Memorial Field last Friday night.

Lake Worth's defense was able to hold running back Fred Taylor to a season low 52 yards on 15 attempts, but the Raiders turned to other weapons on their explosive offense.

Quarterback Juduan Seider upped his record to an impressive 10-0 as the Raider's starting quarterback. Seider threw for 159 yards and two touchdowns. The first touchdown pass was a 13-yard pass to junior wide receiver Shawn Curry in the first quarter and the second a 13-yard pass this time to Reider Anthony in the third quarter.

Anthony finished the game with five catches for 79 yards and Demale Stanley added five catches for 42 yards.

Senior running back James Powe had 50 yards on nine carries and added an 11-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter.

The Glades Central's defense held Lake Worth to 111 yards in total offense and eight first downs in recording their second shutout in three games.

The Trojans were led by Richard Butler who had 79 yards on 19 carries to led all rushers.

Glades Central is ranked No. 1 in the Class 3A state poll. Next week at Okeechobee.

John I. Leonard stormed back as Keith Moore returned the ensuing kickoff 82 yards for a touchdown. Jim Revulus' extra point was good as the score was 8-7 at the half.

The Blue Devils would get a much needed break in the third quarter. Moore could not control Hershall Walker's hand off and middle linebacker Edwin Harder scooped up the ball and ran 43 yards for the score. Then Richardson ran in the two point conversion.

Pahokee would add another touchdown with 7:54 remaining in the fourth quarter as Richardson connected on a 26-yard touchdown pass to Tyrone Smith. Richardson completed 12-of-16 passes for 149 yards and one touchdown and Smith added four receptions for 56 yards and one touchdown.

But the game was far from over.

Walker scored on a 41-yard run and Mike Tipp converted the two point conversion to pull John I. Leonard to 22-15.

The Blue Devil's offense would take over on their own 39 yard line after junior Darrell Smith recovered the on side kick.

Pahokee's offense was hoping to run the clock out, but Taylor fumbled the ball the 47 and the Lancers recovered.

But the Lancer's hopes of pulling off a last minute victory were dashed suddenly. With 52 seconds left, Richardson picked off Walker's pass at the Pahokee 35 yard line to preserve the Blue Devil's 22-15 victory.

The Blue Devils were led defensively by Orson Walkes who had seven tackles and one sack.

Defensive end Paul Bowles also was a major factor in Pahokee's victory. The 6-foot-2, 210 pound defensive end had eight tackles and one sack. Pahokee's defense held the Lancers to eight yards passing 13 first downs, and sacked quarterback Hershall Walker two times.

Seven weeks ago Bowles chipped a bone in his right ankle while playing basketball and the injury was expected to keep him out for the team's first five games. Since that time Bowles has returned to action and has been a major contributor to Pahokee's strong start.

"It was great having beat John I. Leonard, but we need to stay working hard. Next week we play Labelle, which could be the toughest out of our first four games," said head coach Mark Kaczanowicz.

Pahokee football players... celebrate their victory over John I. Leonard. (Sunphoto by David Ranieri)

Offensive coordinator Casey Cavanaugh agreed with Kaczanowicz. "It's nice to get off to a good start, but the key games are district games like Labelle and Cardinal Newman. Success breeds success." The Blue Devils are now ranked No. 2 in the Class 2A state poll. They will host Labelle High School Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Lewis' family revealed to have a long line of heart disease, helps to explain controversial death

By David Ranieri
Staff Reporter

The clouds that once obscured Reggie Lewis' death have finally parted.

The Boston Globe has recently released information that is crucial in unraveling the Boston Celtic's star controversial and tragic death.

The Globe reported that Lewis suffered from a heart murmur and his family had a history of heart illness. Lewis suffered from five or six dizzy spells in the four months before an earlier collapse on April 29, when the Celtics were playing the Charlotte Hornets in Game 1 of the first-round of the NBA Playoffs. Lewis had a run of irregular heartbeats when he was resting in the hospital following his first collapse.

The newspaper also reported that Lewis told his doctor, Gilbert Mudge, that one of his two brothers was born with a hole in his heart and had undergone open heart surgery in a Baltimore hospital at the age of four.

Lewis also concealed that his mother, Inez Reid had had two heart attacks, one when she was 17.

Previously, Lewis death was surrounded with mystery because of conflicting medical opinion.

He was originally diagnosed with cardiomyopathy, a life threatening illness that can lead to heart irregularities. This was same disease that Hank Gathers was diagnosed with.

But Lewis, like all patients, was entitled to a second medical opinion. This time Lewis was told that he could resume his career with the proper medication and for the first time since his collapse on April 29 it looked like Lewis could possibly return to basketball and this story might have a happy ending. Unfortunately that never happened.

Lewis first gained recognition playing for Dunbar High School in Baltimore. He teamed with Tyrone Bogues and Reggie Williams on a team that many called the greatest high school team ever to play the game.

Later, Lewis was drafted in 1987 by the Boston Celtic in the first round, the 22 overall pick. He was Northeastern's all-time leading scorer and a college star.

Still may experts never predicted his success. Lewis would have in the pros.

He rose from a struggling rookie to the Celtic's captain and a bright spot on an aging Boston dynasty. Larry Bird's back forbid him from playing the game that he once dominated and Kevin McHale and Robert Parrish were nearing the end of their careers.

Still, who was responsible for Lewis' death? Witnesses said he had not broken a sweat, while shooting baskets before he died.

Now that the Celtic's star is gone many people will try to place blame on someone for a death that could have been prevented.

Was it the doctors, the Boston organization or Lewis himself?

You can probably find everyone involved in this case partly to blame in same way.

As Americans, we always love to reward our heroes for their great feats. Athletes are always rewarded for their athletic prowess through huge contracts, the roar of the crowd and constant attention.

We love to placed athletes on pedestals because we want to be like them, but we also give the false sense that they are indestructible. But no one is superhuman and cannot avoid death.

Lewis leaves behind his wife who is expecting their second child and his son, Reggie, Jr.

Lake Worth's defense was able to hold running back Fred Taylor to a season low 52 yards on 15 attempts, but the Raiders turned to other weapons on their explosive offense.

Quarterback Jujuan Seider upped his record to an impressive 10-0 as the Raider's starting quarterback. Seider threw for 159 yards and two touchdowns. The first touchdown pass was a 13-yard pass to junior wide receiver Shawn Curry in the first quarter and the second a 13-yard pass this time to Reidel Anthony in the third quarter.

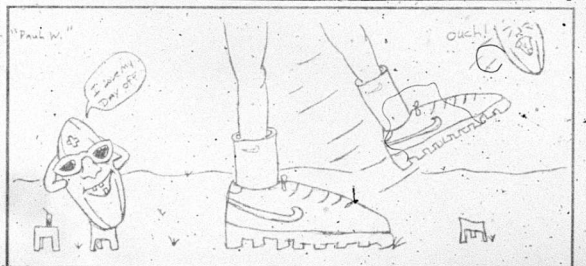

Anthony finished the game with five catches for 79 yards and Demale Stanley added five catches for 42 yards.
